

PRESIDENT CASSELL: Delegate Oulahan?

MR. OULAHAN: My personal privilege, Mr. President, is this: I suggest that the federal Constitution is a better document than the document here, because I believe that the bill of rights proposed here is flawed and that the federal Constitution happens to be much better and will give us better protection.

MR. KAMENY: A point of order, Mr. Chair.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: Your point, sir?

MR. KAMENY: Delegate Oulahan, if you look at what he has proposed and what he has stated, has provided no substitute language. The Fifth and Sixth Amendments -- and I can read them to you if it's appropriate, although I prefer not to -- cover all of them. Except minimally, they are not germane to this. We are buying more verbiage than is in here, most of it having nothing to do with what we are discussing. He is not offering an amendment, and therefore he is out of order.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: Delegate Oulahan, you do have the right to delete. Why don't you divide your motion? There is some question as to whether the amendment really speaks to the section under discussion. Would you like to move to delete it?

MR. OULAHAN: I thought I did, Mr. Chairman. I moved to strike, which is the same as delete, and substitute therefor the Fifth Amendment, which deals with grand jury procedures. That was my motion.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: The Chair has requested that you divide that into --

MR. OULAHAN: I'd be very glad to divide it.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: Okay. The motion on the floor now is to strike Section 7, as written. Is there any discussion on that?

MR. MARCUS: We'll discuss it, but we'll wait.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: Delegate Robinson?

MR. ROBINSON: Mr. President, I stand to also ask that Section 7 be struck. However, I should like to offer some additional language for Section 7 at the appropriate time. I would replace it with some substitute language.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: A response from the committee, delegate Kameny? Who speaks for delegate Kameny?

MR. KAMENY: Delegate Marcus.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: We will follow that procedure so that the record shows that we're following our procedure.

MR. KAMENY: Yes.

PRESIDENT CASSELL: Who is it that speaks for you?
