Dear Dan:

Just wanted to say hello, and thank you for continuing to send me your Paper, since my second wife died, I have had no steady place to live in, and most of those papers and magazines have in some way's not reached me, and that adds to the losing of two of the finest girls, for wives, leaves me in, No one who has not experienced that, can understand the meaning of it, that Experience and the other one, "as at least enough to try one's Soul, to keep from becoming a primitive savage, and settling with those that did it, in the way of those primitive men, I say however that if I had settled it that way, there is at least one gentleman that would have deserved it Fully. Every Good wish for you and your's, Allway. Sincerely,

John H. Walker
